November 2012

Hello Advisors!

As I'm sure you all know, this coming Friday is our annual Fall Leadership Flex Conference with Arizona FLBA! The State Officer Team is so excited to be able to share leaderships and HOSA knowledge with you in a fast-paced, exciting setting! We are proud to offer over 60 breakout sessions that will include SIMS labs, Medical Lab, pharmacy, competitive events, OR careers, Cystic Fibrosis, Leadership, College Finances, Running for State Office, and much more. We are looking forward to seeing you and your chapters the Phoenix Convention Center, and we hope to see you all at the Phoenix Suns Game following the conference. Please refer to the Fall Conference Program for a complete list of exhibitors, presenters, and breakout sessions and remember the HOSA dress code for the conference must include a spirit shirt or a regular polo shirt. If you or your students have any last-minute questions concerning the conference, please feel free to contact the State Advisor or any of the State Officers for answers. Also, feel free to post your questions on the "AzHOSA" Facebook page for a live dialogue with the state officer team!

All advisors should be sure to attend the Advisor's Session at Fall Conference to receive important information on upcoming events like Regional and State Competitions. You will also hear from myself and our National HOSA Officer, Kayla Loomis.

"HOSA Week" is November 4-10th! Use your chapter's events and publicity as part of the HOSA Week recognition event. Chapters may choose an alternate week if they would like! If you would like resources or information on how to have a successful HOSA Week at your school, please encourage your chapter officer team to reach out to the State Officers! We have many ideas from our past successful events, and would also love to hear about your chapter's HOSA Week experiences.

Looking forward to seeing you at FLC!
